THE COUPLE This epic love story began over 11 years ago when Kelly Logan and Jarrod Brown met as co-workers at North Beach's Original Joe's. After drifting apart following their career changes, the duo were reacquainted at a colleague's birthday party a few years later, where Jarrod decided to take a chance. He asked Kelly to a Giants game. Their relationship hit a home run, and he proposed in Kelly's Morgan Hill childhood home on Christmas, surrounded by family.

THE PARTY Kelly and Jarrod are oenophiles, so a Napa wedding was the obvious choice. The couple had visited Silverado Resort & Spa a few times while dating and felt like it was the perfect place to profess their love, complete with their own vows. "I've always been a pretty private person, but the second I saw her, everything felt right at ease," Jarrod explains. "We also started our vows with basically the same line, which was hysterical." The reception and afterparty boasted tasty bites—think Harvey's Donuts and Silverado Burger Dogs—and late-night dancing.

THE HONEYMOON The couple took a mini-moon to Cabo in September, but are planning an official honeymoon to Italy—specifically Tuscany and Santa Margherita Ligure—this August. —EK
