

Simple Sustainable Seafood Party

Sunset

BEST OF THE WEST

Paddles from Recess infuse the sport with style.

Pickleball in Paradise

America's fastest-growing sport was invented in the West, where it gets a design-forward flourish, complete with stylish new gear and luxe hotels offering lessons.

Story by KRISTA SIMMONS Photograph by THOMAS J. STORY

Pickleball—the quirky hybrid of tennis, ping-pong, and badminton—might be all the rage in sunny climes like Palm Beach, but it has its roots in the Pacific Northwest, where it was created by a group of dads in 1965 on Bainbridge Island, Washington. Turn the page to learn more!

Where to Play

▲ SILVERADO

Ratchet up your trip to wine country by adding a bit of racket sport. There are nine newly refreshed tennis courts, plus three for pickleball. There are also PGA championship golf courses and a whopping 16,000-square-foot spa.